AFRICAN ART MUSEUM OF MARYLAND (AAMM)

Since 1980: Sharing the Energy of Africa
A 501(c)(3) not-for-profit institution

Coming to Columbia!

FREE

The African Art Museum of Maryland (AAMM) in partnership with the East Columbia 50 Plus Center in Columbia, MD invite you for a

"Don't Miss" Event

You Are Invited To Meet and Greet…

… select members of the Underwater Adventure Seekers (UAS), a group of Black expert Scuba Divers; representing the UAS, is Master instructor, Jay V. Haigler. The UAS was founded in the 1950's enjoying their pleasurable hobby of diving, of exploring the waterways, when the motive for diving developed into searches for remnants of history for which they have been highly successful and applauded across the United States, Europe and Africa. Hear their stories and re-live their world experiences. In its more than 67 years of existence, they total more than 100 memberships and 50% of them are women.

Jay V. Haigler, Underwater Adventure Seekers (UAS) for 21 years

"The Underwater Adventure Seekers delegate their energy to bring truth to the Seas". A major search project is for remnants of the slave ships; the Guerrero and the Henrietta Marie.

Lite REFRESHMENTS

Seating Is Limited

Wednesday, September 23, 2026 – 2 p.m.- 4 p.m.

at the

East Columbia 50+ Center, 6610 Cradlerock Way, Columbia, MD 21045

RSVP Online NOW / Call: 410.740.7411

or Email: info@africanartmuseum.org